

WINTER FESTIVAL FRIDAY

As the Gater Sees It

PLAINT

Modern woman is just a bit more subtle than the Irishman who, when asked if he didn't think one man was just as good as another, replied, "Sure I do, an' a dom sight better." Woman today, while insisting that she is as significant as any male, withholds the "dom sight better" part for her inner satisfaction alone.

We believe that Man, in the treatment accorded the better half of humanity during the last two hundred decades, has much to answer for. Man has held his superior position by virtue of his male-manufactured customs and laws, and has enforced these laws with his male knuckles. Man has fattened his ego particularly upon the egos of all the women closely associated with him, and generally upon the ego of all woman-kind. Even such an advanced thinker in the cause of liberty as was the great John Milton taught, "Hee for God only, shee for God in him," to our Puritan progenitors. Whereas bitter struggles have ensued in the long battle to bring about a respect for the "humanness" of even the lowliest of men, nothing in any philosophy or religion, up to the time of the first world war, had succeeded in bringing about a corresponding recognition of Woman as an individual with capacities other than for amusement, child bearing, and servitude.

For all this and more must man answer.

But now all is changed. Woman is justly accorded equality with man before the law and a like change in social custom is slowly taking place. There can be no doubt that woman is at least the equal of man. Scientific inquiry seems to indicate that woman is as strong, as virtuous, as merciful, as intelligent, and as creative as her now deposed ruler. Beside these virtues she boasts the extra meta-masculine powers of intuition and reproduction. It is even hoped in some circles, we are sure, that eventually woman will be able to dispense with the services of man altogether.

But until that time we, who have always vigorously attested the truth of the foregoing argument, shall never cease insisting that woman, in the name of the Justice we ourselves have championed while fighting the feminine cause, ought now to assume the duties concomitant to her new rights.

This need for woman's voluntary assumption of new duties is paralleled by a necessity for the abrogation of all her old privileges. Man and Woman will then be on the same footing living, working, fighting, and dying together, humankind will experience a new era of male-female unity never before known to this earth. Mutual regard, cutting across lines of sex, color, creed, and occupation will be the rule for living rather than an hypocritical, hate-provoking talking point against a rival commercial nation.

In this future day we shall never see woman rudely showing her way into elevators and trams. Woman in position of authority will not "Pluvius" Penguin invaded State Wednesday. He was sent to the Winter Festival Dance by Admiral Byrd from the South Pole. He is shown here being greeted by Alice Fratessa, left, and Dolores Ferrari, right, the chairman of the dance.

St. Nick Says No Tuxs

Friday Nite Festival

"It tickles," said St. Nick.

"What tickles," said Dolores Ferrari, Alice Fratessa, co-chairmen of the Senior Winter Festival dance.

"It tickles me to be able to put on this grand dance this Friday from nine to one in the Women's gym," gurgled St. Nick. "I've sent 'Pluvius', the penguin sent up by Admiral Byrd, around the campus to invite all the Staters to the dance," added St. Nick.

"That's swell," said the girls, "and we're sure that all of them will come as it is only sixty cents for couples and thirty-five cents for stags."

"Slippery" and "Stewpot", the W.P.A. walruses, left out in the cold as the F.H.A. refused to sign their contract, waddled in carrying a note to St. Nick.

"Hot dog, listen to this," blurted the exuberant Nick, "Pluvius says that six hotel cover charges will be given away for the best costume. Ain't that swell?"

"It sure is," giggled the girls, "and we'll have the gym all decorated to look like the ski hut at the Fair."

And with that, "Stewpot" went cold as a mackerel as he knew that they did not allow walruses in the hut, and he just cried and cried 'cause he wouldn't be able to dance to Dick Lotter's orchestra. Poor "Stewpot", he'll miss a good time, quoth the raven evermore.

According to Primo Abantao, librarian for the club, each prize is worth more than the purchasing price.

"This is a drive," Eugene Vdovin, treasurer, stated, "for scholarship funds to be given to underprivileged children of the American school at Damascus, Syria."

Xmas Jinx To Help Needy Kids

Fruit and vegetables—in a desiccated condition—was once used as a means of improving the theater.

But State students will employ similar edibles—canned—to enjoy an evening of dancing and entertainment.

Christmas Jinks, annual social event for the assistance of needy children of Frederic Burk school, will be the occasion Friday, December 15 in the F.B. auditorium.

A minimum of two cans of food and your student body card will entitle you to swing to the strains of probably Benn Souza's orchestra, and to receive the unspoken thanks of the need children you help. Without the card, admission will be two cans of food and two bits.

The sky's the limit on the quantity of food you may bring. Bob Sweeney, student body president, suggested, "Bring all you can to help make this a real Christmas for these needy youngsters."

State has scored in every tussle except the San Jose State game. They annexed 21 points to their opponents 28, winning five, losing six, with one more game to be played.

Most gratifying victory of the year was the lop-sided contest against the S.F.J.C. in which the Gaters smeared the Junior College 4-0.

Blocks will be awarded team members at the close of the season.

The annual Fall Spread will be held Friday, December 15 at the Elizabeth Inn. The W.A.A. honorary pin will be presented to an outstanding member of the association as well as the presentation of the activity awards such as the wings, blocks, and pins. Don't miss this affair, girls!

The former trophy case in the women's gym is now being used for showing the hobbies of various W.A.A. members. To date Josephine Biggi has shown her collection of Mexican objects and Jean Madison has displayed her linoleum cuts and cards which she has printed. This week Lucille Henry is displaying her collection of dolls.

Our hockey group participated in a playday at Mills College last Saturday morning. The girls played fifteen minute games against San Jose State which ended in a 0-0 score and Mills College which they won by a score of 1-0. The girls also learned techniques from outstanding hockey players in the bay area. The girls enjoyed the playday which started at 9:00 and ended at 12:30 o'clock.

Colored Film

"Fundamentals of Skiing", a color film, taken by Dr. Frank Howard will be shown at the Frederic Burk auditorium on Wednesday, December 13, at 8:00 p.m.

This film is one of the most beautiful and inspiring films available on skiing, according to Doris Holt, professor of P. E.

It shows Yosemite, Tahoe, Sun Valley and even ski jumping at Treasure Island.

The various international and national ski champions are shown in action.

FILM VERY POPULAR

According to Bobbe Sandeen, chairman of publicity, this film is in great demand throughout California, and State is fortunate in securing it at the beginning of the winter sport season.

It was shown at the San Francisco Examiner Ski School, which was held recently at the Civic Auditorium.

STATE ALUMNUS

Dr. Frank Howard is a very prominent member of the California Ski Association and is a former State student. According to reports he is an excellent skier and fully equipped to take such outstanding pictures.

EVERYONE INVITED

The W.A.A. is sponsoring this movie and sends cordial invitations to everyone at State to come and bring their friends. There is no charge for admission.

SAND DUNE SKIING

This Sunday at 10 a.m. at 39th Avenue and Santiago Street, San Francisco enthusiasts will ski on the sand dunes.

Dippy? It certainly was! The "it" in this case referring, of course, to the Phi Lambda Chi's "Dippy Decathlon" night, held last Saturday, December 2. The girls opened their sorority house doors wide and bid everyone enter—that is, for the small sum of 12½¢ each.

DIPS AND DROOPS

Ho-hum, the usual couples, or twosomes, or steadies or whatever you want to call them—were all very much in evidence.

Some dips having the time of their lives and flinging old man age to the—well—dogs, were: Ruth Graves and Ed McClintock; Annabelle Tyler and Willard Lincoln (Annabelle is teaching now, but she looked as young as some of her students); Carolyn Grother and Earl Saxton; Mardis Mullin and Charlie Brown.

Basketball star, Tom Collingwood and Gladys Thompson; Claire Mason and Bill Davis; Gladys Hurning and Joe Carter; Virginia Hannah and (soo—soddy, boys) her Steady, Jim McGruer; Polly McCarthy and Barton Carr; Elsie Hansen and Bob Hodgins, were just a small handful of the many having gone super dippy bit of fun.

Intramural Actions

By JOHN PICHOTTO

Leaders in each division of intramural basketball are starting the final stretch this week all with the possibility of playing in the championship games next week. The championship game will be played in the Women's gym next Thursday, December 14.

Division A is stubbornly held by the All-Chinese Cathayan squad with four victories against no losses with the Muscle-Men right in there with two wins and no losses. Sigma Pi Sigma is tops in Division B with three wins, no losses, while the Soccer Boys have a chance to upset with 2 wins, 1 loss.

Division C is loaded with potential winners, Newman Purple, Old Men's A.C., and the Outcasts, while the same situation exists in Division D with the Playground Directors, Phi Epsilon Mu and Palookas all even with two wins each. Sigma Pi Sigma had a tough battle on their hands when they beat the Soccer Boys, 20-16, last Monday in the Gym. Lane De Lara's boys held the fraternity lads to an even par until the last few minutes of play. Don MacRitchie was high-scorer with 10, while Jack McGann, Bob Wolf, and John Finn also tallied.

Bob Anderson, Bob Buckley, Joe Edelstein, Ed Barry, and Tony Barch also saw action for the winners, while Bob Turney, Bill Dorwin, Mel Johns, Hal Corbett, Bob Osegueada, and John Peterson played good ball for the Soccer Boys.

Yesterday's game was an 11-8 win for the Boilermakers over the Green Bay Packers. Craig Gaffney and Jim Changus were high-men for the winners, while Jim Maciel, Bill Clark, Zamloch, Shumaker, and Duling tallied for the losers. Boilermakers Knight, Lewis, and Coulson played winning basketball.

Watch the schedule for changes in playing dates.

Soccerites Close Season On Saturday

Gaters Lose Thriller To Strong Aggies In Final Minutes Of Play

By EUGENE MALIN

San Francisco State soccer eleven will ring down the curtain to their first season this Saturday with San Mateo, or Cal Aggies as their 12th and final opponent.

They played their best game of the season against the Cal Aggies, strongest intercollegiate team on the coast, last Saturday. The Gaters led 2-0 up to the first half. In the final half the Aggies rallied bringing the score up to 2 all. The Aggies tallied another goal before the final whistle blew, winning 3-2.

Every tough team Coach Gerry Kenny could contact was challenged to a contest. Teams that met the challenges thought State would be a push-over and would offer no real resistance. Imagine their surprise and discomfement when the Gaters played like veterans and never quit fighting until the final gun. Today, San Francisco State is mentioned in soccer circles with awe and respect.

Next year State will be a serious challenger for the crown of the Northern California intercollegiate

State 145's Walloped By Balboa High

Balboa High's varsity cagers thoroughly trounced State's 145's last evening to the tune of 44 to 25. Balboa outclassed the Baby Gaters in all departments.

Dick Boyle sends his Forty-fives against two other teams this weekend. Tonight his lightweights meet an unnamed opponent in the preliminary game to the varsity altercation.

Tomorrow afternoon the boys travel over to Galileo high school where they meet two Lion squads. These games enable each Boyle to use all his men, giving them added experience.

Probable starting line-up for tonight's fracas: Alex Edelstein and Fred Schwartz, guards; John Wong and Wally Young, forwards, and Archie Steinbach, center.

Machi Makes Big Sportnite Plans

Fists will fly and torsos will thrash about the mats in the Women's gym on December 13, when the A.M.S. holds their semi-annual sportnite. President Mario Machi will be in charge of the affair.

Boxing and wrestling will be the main events of the evening and dancing and refreshments will be enjoyed after the sports are thru. A capacity crowd is expected to turn out for the affair and President Machi is optimistic.

Three Nights in a Row Schedule Gives Varsity Casabans Busy Weekend

Tom Collingwood Goes On A Spree Scoring Eighteen Points; Carlson Of Strom Clothiers Rings Up Fifteen Points

Fencers Prepare For Tournament

A shift in the varsity fencing line-up was made today by Coach Len Duckworth in preparation for the coming four-school tournament at San Jose on December 27 and 28. This was made necessary because John Tilden, veteran varsity man, will be unable to make the trip due to employment.

The varsity for the match will consist of: Roy Dison, Len Duckworth, Wallace Twichell, Erwin Bischoff, and Vic Vari. Twichell, who scored an upset against the Italian Club, will replace Tilden.

Participating in the meet at San Jose will be the state colleges of Santa Barbara, Fresno, San Jose, and San Francisco, and will be held to coincide with the basketball tourney.

SENIOR WINTER CARNIVAL
FRIDAY NITE

State's high scoring varsity won their second game last night trouncing Strom Clothiers by the score of 64 to 40 in an exciting, rough and tumble match.

Three games this week are giving the State basket boys a thorough early season workout. Wednesday night's fracas against Strom Clothiers' first team game the State top squad a busy session. Tonight the new men will again go to court in a private battle against an unnamed team. Friday evening will find the varsity in action in the gym.

Friday's mix will be with the highly touted Athens Club aggregation. The Athenians showed great speed and fast breaking ability in their last week's game with Santa Clara, although they came out on the short end of the score.

Outstanding men who are strengthening the veteran first team, such as Fanfelle, Kalfain, Hammond and Harold, will probably dress for action in both the Thursday and Friday games. A smashed schnozzle kept Fanfelle from last Friday's game, after his good showing in the earlier new man game with the Stroms. He will probably get in this week, well disguised behind a nose guard.

Kupfer Readies Boxing Team For Heavy Schedule

Boxers and wrestlers are having an important meeting this moment in room 118 College hall. All candidates are urged to attend. Major topics of discussion will be conditioning for the first boxing meet with the Y.M.C.A. and the intramural tournament.

Purple trunks with gold stripes down the side and lightweight boxing shoes have been fitted out for the boxers.

Coach Kupfer intends to devote the rest of the semester to instructing his charges in the fundamental of boxing and wrestling in preparation for an intensive season of activity in the spring term.

Kupfer will coach any novices who may be inexperienced every day from 3:30 to 5 o'clock in the men's training quarters.

Anyone, regardless of whether he is on the boxing or wrestling teams, can enter the intramural tournament to be held next term. Campus organizations or classes with teams entered can vie for the team trophy. Men who finish in first place in their particular weight division will receive an individual trophy.

Following are the intercollegiate weight classes that will be contested:

As Gater Sees It

hide behind her own petticoat and be unspeakably rude because she knows she is safe from a good punch in the nose. Woman, in this far off day, will fight in the wars which she helps to create. Never again need Man allow Woman to pin a white feather in his muffled lapels as she now does. In this good day to come, Man may retaliate by pinning some white mark upon woman's snoods or wimples, or whad-jah-ma-callems, possibly as marks for enemy planes.

Nor shall hate be spread by atrocity stories which relate the killing of women during "reprisal for invasion". Woman will be regarded as a politically responsible agent who has aided in bringing about a much needed war, and who must fight in that same war; there will be no more tears shed for the female than for the male. Nobody asks the male today whether or not the thought of plunging fifteen inches of naked steel into another working-man's bowels would be repulsive—in fact, if a feeling of revulsion is admitted some woman is apt to rush up with a white feather and a pin. The idea of killing either man or woman may begin to be regarded as an atrocity by some few heavy thinkers of this far distant age. At any rate, we believe, it is now time for woman to mull over the idea that, after all, man is an individual to.

FRIDAY NITE

Student Plays Friday Night

With a varied show including comedy, struggle and romance, Jessie D. Casebolt's English 126B class will present three one-act plays at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Annex B-2.

"The Perfect Ending" by Ryerson and Clemens is a story of a Hollywood scenario writer who has just about arrived at the end of her ingenuity in grinding out plots for $1000-a-day artists to "mouth". Her troubles are over, however, when a clever stenographer gives her a cue for an ending. Sarita Cannedo plays the part of the writer; Phyllis Southard, a stenographer; and Noreen Honneff, visitor.

In "Farewell to Love", two actors, Frances Towhig and Jack McKannay, decide to break up after seven years of co-starring. They can't make up their minds whether to marry or to start out in the world alone as artists in the profession.

An American millionaire falls deeply in love with a mysterious lady at a French resort and is about to propose when—he is led to believe that the young damsel in question has a "golden Leg". The actress leads him a merry chase. In the play by Essex Dana are Blanche Jensen and George Archambeault.

Two other one-act plays are being prepared by College theater and will be given next Wednesday evening.

Admission to the productions is free with student body cards.

Hacker Forum

Dr. Walter Hacker will conduct his weekly Geographical forum Monday noon in room 209, College hall.
